“Overview about how to support energy transition in rural and islands areas based on regional consultations across the Mediterranean”

Interreg Med Renewable Energy Community will provide an overview of the lessons learned about how to support the energy transitions of islands and rural areas. This overview is based on project results and regional consultations with stakeholders across the Mediterranean. It will be debated by a round-table of experts from the Climate Alliance, Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), ICLEI-Local Governments for Sustainability, Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and European Federation of Agencies and Regions for Energy and the Environment (FEDARENE). The round-table will be wrapped-up with a cocktail.
